

HUMANITIES WITHOUT LIMITS: IMPRESSIONS OF BRNO ONE YEAR AFTERWARD

Eva Schmidt-Hartmann

In this brief article, the author has attempted to summarize, one year after the fact, the impressions produced by collaboration between scholars from Czechoslovakia and abroad. During the visit to Brno, colleagues from the Collegium Carolinum were confronted by methodically assembled information, which left diverse impressions of various kinds. The observations presented here should serve the discussion in order to help overcome clearly visible difficulties from a year's experience.